Capacity-building training on Early Childhood Care and Education

A three-day capacity-building workshop was organized for 61 supervisors from the Raipur district in collaboration with the Department of Women and Child Development, Chhattisgarh, as part of the 'Gadhbo Bachpan' project. The workshop aimed to help supervisors understand the structure and content of the state ECCE curriculum and methods for its effective implementation. Additionally, the training focused on planning micro-changes to achieve the larger goal of providing quality education to children.

Engaging the community through - सुपोषण चौपाल

Suposhan Chaupal is celebrated at Anganwadi centers on the first and third Thursday of every month. A list of themes is already assigned for the the Suposhan Chaupal. Each time, a theme is selected for the Chaupal and Anganwadi Workers plan their activities around it.

Play Day Celebration

Our teams across the states, joined the 'Hour of Free play' challenge by UNICEF India and Bachpan Manao to celebrate the International Day of Play. They engaged in free play with children, parents, community and educational functionaries rediscovering the joy and importance of play.

Centre Visits

Conducted visits to Anganwadi centres to support micro improvement plans, focusing on daily lessons, timely opening, print-rich environments, and best practices. Findings: structured routines, punctual openings, colorful displays, and innovative teaching. Challenges: limited resources and space.

Murshidabad Schools Develop Micro Improvement Plans

Despite school closures in May due to summer vacation, our commitment to supporting primary schools in Murshidabad remained steadfast. During this period, we maintained close contact with teachers and headmasters across our network of 50 schools. Our initial visits provided valuable insights, helping us identify key areas for improvement.

School Visits Highlight Progress and Challenges

We are pleased to see changes and initiatives taken by most schools to achieve the goals set in their Micro Improvement Plans.
